

GE Consumer Finance Corporate Payment Services

actual size of product

actual cost to pay for it

How to tell when it's time for a purchasing card program.

Little things add up. For example, a traditional purchase order costs an average of $90 to process. That's why smart organizations use purchasing cards to reduce the cost of procurement.

With the purchasing card from Corporate Payment Services, your employees can make day-to-day purchases quickly and efficiently. You set their limits, total spend, and the kind of goods and services they can purchase. What's more, our consultants can help you dramatically reduce procurement cycle time, the need for petty cash accounts, and the size of your supplier base. The net result? Savings of nearly 80 percent compared to the processing cost of a traditional purchase order.

Contact us today to find out how a little move could bring you big savings.

Call 800-554-0581
email slcmarketing@ge.com
www.gebusinessmarketplace.com

imagination at work